The Real Review has taken the Top Wineries initiative to the exciting, growing wine industry in the United Kingdom. With more than 1 million readers globally, a growing number of whom are in the UK and Europe, The Real Review and the Top Wineries of Australia and New Zealand have become annual benchmarks for the movers and shakers in wine down under.

In an industry in which the yardstick has to be Champagne, whose story spans more than three centuries, English sparkling wine only adopted the Champagne grapes for the first time when Stuart and Sandy Moss decided to reject England's Germanic grape varieties back in 1988 and plant chardonnay, pinot noir and meunier at Nyetimber instead. Today Nyetimber is The Real Review Winery of the Year Great Britain 2021.

The Real Review was delighted to have the support of WineGB, which helped ensure a good representation of wineries. It's fair to say that all the major producers accepted the gauntlet thrown down to them with relish.
